

why is it more than a workshop?

To have such eminent designers coming to Melbourne at a time when the global financial market is in crisis is anticipated to be so very beneficial and informative to those attending.

Firstly, to hear first hand what the impact actually is, and anticipated to be, on business and educational institutions/courses.

Secondly, what strategies have they put, and are planning to put, in place to redress the situation?

Thirdly, what are the short and long-term changes - the challenges and the opportunities?

... and by no means least, the time to talk to others across industries and occupations whilst refreshing and enhancing ideas, inspiration and skills through the hands-on project.
